

BUTTE IS QUIET AFTER ITS NIGHT OF RIOTING

Mayor Will Not Commit Himself, However, as to Turnout Being at an End.

CITIZENS LOOK TO GOVERNOR

Mines Work as Usual, and So Far as Operating Companies Are Concerned They Have Not Been Brought Into Controversy.

Butte, Mont., June 24.—Butte was quiet to-day, after a night of rioting, started by the internal strife in the Western Federation of Miners, which cost the life of one man, injuries to four others and heavy property loss.

Mayor Duncan, however, would not commit himself as to turnout being at an end. He fears reprisals between the factions, but said he would not ask for troops, as he believes the sheriff should make that request. The sheriff has taken no action toward that end.

Citizens said they looked to Governor Stewart at Helena for a solution of the trouble. Charles H. Meyer, president of the federation, and others who were driven from the Miners' Hall under fire, appealed to the Governor at Helena to-day for State control at Butte.

The mines worked as usual, and so far the operating companies have not been brought into the controversy. It was officially announced the mine owners have taken no part in the factional fight.

Altogether 250 pounds of dynamite was exploded in the streets of Butte last night in four hours. The dynamite was obtained by rioters from a factory where the engineer had been forced to lower the rioters to the powder magazine.

TOSSING DYNAMITE

One man stood in the middle of the street in front of the Miners' Union hall, cut holes in sticks, inserted caps and fuses and then tossed the dynamite into the building. Pistol shots warned the crowds in the street to fall back when the fuses were lighted.

Civil authorities made no attempt to stop the rioting. Mayor Duncan expressed the opinion that more serious trouble was averted by not making arrests.

J. J. McCaffery, county attorney, announced he would investigate the riotous actions of the crowd last night, and that, if he obtained evidence, he would prosecute.

Sealers continued to sign members for the new union formed on Sunday. They asserted that the strike in the trouble last night, and that they counseled peace. Sheriff Driscoll denied to-day that he had spies in the Union hall last night, and that any of his deputies fired into the crowd.

Governor Stewart offered State aid in bringing about peace here in a telegram here to President McDonald, of the new miners' union. The message reads:

"The State administration stands ready to assist in bringing about peace and harmony between the miners in the Butte district. Can we aid in preparing plans for arbitration, or in any other manner? We will be glad to confer with you or your representatives, and will cheerfully assist you in any of the difficulties, if it is within our power."

President McDonald replied: "Thanks. We need no assistance. Disturbing element gone from here. Whole thing passed by. No more men who shot from hall. Will keep you posted."

dinner was served the 100 visitors upon arrival at the cafe of T. Ellis. A souvenir plaque of Mount Vernon was returned the women in the party by Mr. Ellis.

On returning this afternoon they visited the Masonic Temple, where they stored the priceless relics of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons, of which Washington was the first master. A lecture regarding the relics was delivered by George W. Zachary, titler of the lodge. At Christ Protestant Episcopal Church, Rev. W. J. Morton, pastor, delivered a lecture on the church. The visitors also inspected the old Carlyle House.

The morning session to-day was presided over by President Charles B. Cooke, and prayer was offered by Rev.

VIRGINIA EDITORS IN SESSION AT ALEXANDRIA

William J. Morton, pastor of Christ Protestant Episcopal Church.

MISS BERTHA ROBINSON'S "SUGGESTIONS FOR SANCTUM"

Miss Bertha Gray Robinson, editor of the Orange Observer, historian of the association, read a report on statistics of the organization during the past year, followed by a paper which she read entitled "Some Suggestions for the Sanctum," as follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the Virginia Press Association, fellow sufferers (and I greatly fear, sufferers yet before I get through my remarks). As I have had a long experience in journalism, having been the editor of a county paper for nearly thirty years, I thought I would talk to you to-day upon a subject in which I am greatly interested, and from my viewpoint one which should be considered of vital importance in every country newspaper office. It is that of paying strict attention to the proper set-up of local matter."

"I have found out, both by experience and observation, that it is very detrimental, especially to a country paper, which goes into so many homes where no other publication is taken, to have persons' names spelled wrong, their initials incorrect, and the places where they are from not right."

"Now, daily papers whose field is so entirely different and so much larger than the country cousin's is, and whose time is necessarily so much more limited, it is almost impossible to have every personal absolutely correct, and to tell the truth, much less attention is paid to these things by the readers of the afore-said dailies than by the patrons of the country weeklies, where everybody knows each other, and where if a name or initial is wrong, it is almost considered a personal insult."

"Of course, we all know, that it is a lot of worry and trouble to race all around to find out whether Mr. Jones is named Sam or John, but still we cannot expect to accomplish anything properly, or to receive a measure of success in this life, if we do not work for it, both mentally and physically."

"And there is another point which I wish to make in these few remarks, and that is that the local matter of a country weekly should be asserted and classified, and should never be interspersed with local advertisements, as for instance:

"Mrs. John Brown has returned from a visit to New York."
"Get groceries at my store—Sam Smith."

"A subscriber will patronize that store just as liberally if that advertisement is run in between headed articles and not in the personal column, and it worries the patron trying to get the cream of the news out of a chaos of local advertisements."

"I never run any business locals in the reading matter at any price, I have never lost anything by this method, and I know that my patrons greatly appreciate it."

"I merely make these few suggestions in a condensed form, trusting that they may be of some benefit to my dear brothers of the press."

"I told Brother Allen Potts several weeks ago that I would mention him in this address, so I will say as my peroration:

"Dear Brother Potts,
"I love you lots,
"If this to your wife you'll not repeat,
"I will stand you an awful nice treat."

MAKES BRIEF ADDRESS ON ROAD MOVEMENT
G. P. Coleman, State Highway Commissioner, Richmond, made a short address on the general road movement of the State, and particularly in reference to the new legislation which is required for economical road building. He also advocated the abolishment of the antiquated system of road building.

W. S. Copeland, editor of the Daily Press and Times-Herald, Newport News, offered a resolution that the Secretary of the Navy be requested to have certain vessels built at Newport News. Reports were then received the use of radium in superficial cases is the attractiveness of its high cost "I do believe, however, that radium heals where the X-ray does not," he said.

Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, of Baltimore, speaking before the section of surgery of the American Medical Association, declared the appalling mortality in cancer chiefly is due to ignorance and fear of operation.

There are 29,000,000 children in this country and 1,000,000 of them have tuberculosis," was the statement of Dr. Mary Lamham, of Highlands, N. C., in her plea for periodic examination of young students, delivered before the section of preventive medicine and public health.

"Generally speaking, every child in the United States, by the time it reaches maturity, is infected with tuberculosis," she said. "The true prevention of tuberculosis lies in finding out the danger in time to overcome it."

Dr. Axel Werelius, of Chicago, before the section of surgery, related some of the feats performed on animals in experimental surgery of the heart and lungs in research undertaken to test the practicability of surgical interference in the vital organs of the human body—not only in the case of injuries, but in ailments of the heart and lungs that are hopeless with ordinary medical aid. Perhaps his most impressive announcement was that no injury of the heart, no matter how violent, should be considered hopeless.

Another declaration was that the removal of the entire heart sac causes practically no disturbance, and new ones can be manufactured from tissues covering the intestines.
